

JAANA NARSIPUR

Jaana Narsipur is a diverse vocalist who moves effortlessly from classic standards to soul-jazz to modern interpretations of pop tunes. Born in India and raised in the United States, Jaana studied classical voice and piano first as a teenager, then later at the prestigious Northwestern University School of Music where she obtained her Bachelors in Voice and Music History. Further studies were with NEA Jazz Master Sheila Jordan and NYC vocalist J.D. Walter. Jaana plays regularly at venues in NYC and the Hudson Valley including The Flatiron Room, Winnie's Jazz Bar, Jazz on Main, The Bean Runner Café, and many others.

In 2013, Jaana obtained her Masters in Jazz Performance at the Aaron Copland School of Music at Queens College. In 2022, she released her debut album Better Than Anything featuring her original arrangements of Horace Silver and Bob Doroughs compositions, a tribute to the hard bop and bebop masters.

Coming on April 24, 2026, Jaana will release her second studio album, The Re-Collection, a jazz reimagining of 80s pop classics from Kate Bush, The Eurythmics, Joe Jackson, and other iconic artists.

"This album is my version of a "mixtape," with the songs presented through modern jazz arrangements. It's music I listened to as a GenX teen and college student that shaped me as a musician and singer. They are beloved songs made new with harmonic nuances, horns and strings, and diverse grooves. The album is a nostalgia trip— acoustic, intimate, and playful— an act of remembering and re-making.

A Re-Collection."
